It's shit because you stopped posting swastikas and anime girls and the normalfaggots thought this was Breitbart, you absolute nigger.
Take some goddamn personal responsibility. The normalfags feed the trolls, so the trolls keep coming for salt.

Nah. Its already slowed down significantly and the only thing it really accomplished was diminishing the dissemination of anti-Jew info graphics for awhile.

It's ultimately positive though. A lot of people ended up here over the years with pretty moderate right wing views because everywhere else is so heavily censored, myself included.

The shilling has taught a lot of the more tolerant among us to hate. Given what's coming, that was very important.

Because Discord has made it really easy for people to organize raids. It's like a normie IRC, but it's also not so normie that it's the same as like AIM/YIM/MSM where no one does anything but talk with their real friends. Ya know what I am saying dudes? It's completely reshaped the Internet more than Twitter and Facebook ever did.

I miss the Garden of Eden period of /pol/ (2011), when we discussed Spengler, Evola, and actual right-wing thinkers, instead of the nonsense that goes on now.

They were able to disrupt those convos, but I think they actually ended up drawing in ppl who would never have found /pol without it... and thus some were red-pilled despite themselves.

They are being infected by it. Information is a self-replicating construct.
That's what the Sumerians called Memes.
By coming here and fucking with us, they are propagating OUR information into the Normie-sphere.
God bless them, and remember - they are here forever.

I would wager that there are about 40-90 actual posters and several hundred shills at any given time along with several bots in the mix making the same threads over and over. Some are so sophisticated that they have dociers on a variety of psychological profiles down to the day, such that their agitations are at their peak efficacy.

A lot of the time this is not sustainable as an effort for any one group. A lot of them stand by and lurk until it's time for another round so you have an on and off effort at astroturfing. Sometimes this is collaborative and sometimes it isn't. Sometimes it involves using multiple boards as a petri dish, such as /x/, for what purposes is up to speculation - though many share the common goal of diminishing the efficacy of weaponized autism and astroturfing the board to their political ends.

This has happened time and time again to many other forums, but there is a distinct lack of moderation here and anonymity is an obstacle and requires different tactics. The jannies and mods are entirely compromised and complicit in this.
